

Case 2

Reena – “We were having a good time at the office party. I love to see all my team members on the floor having a good time. I saw Ajay standing all by himself. I asked him to join us. He kept making excuses that he cannot dance. I insisted and got him on the dance floor.”

Ajay – “I was having a great time at the office party. I stood at a distance because I don’t like dancing. When Reena asked me to dance I told her I didn’t want to. She grabbed my hand and pulled me onto the dance floor. I stood frozen.”

QUESTIONS

- Why is Reena unable to recognise that her actions are making Ajay uncomfortable?
- Shouldn’t Ajay be confident enough to stop the unwelcome behaviour?
- As an observer how would you respond to the situation?
